Mother's Day at the Arboretum

A fun afternoon for all the family

A trip to Washington Park Arboretum on Mother's Day is a Seattle rite of spring. Families come here in droves to stroll along historic Azalea Way and see the spectacular azaleas, rhododendrons, and dogwoods in full bloom.

The Arboretum Foundation and the University of Washington Botanic Gardens' Education Department will host their popular annual Mother's Day event at the Arboretum, on Sunday, May 10, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Families can have a free photo taken on Azalea Way, next to the Graham Visitors Center. Kids can enjoy fun, plant-themed activities, and every mom will receive a special take-home gift!

"Mother's Day at the Arboretum" is part of Washington Park Arboretum's 75th Anniversary Event Series.
